What the spaceplan covers

Five areas that determine whether the space will still work three years from now.

Needs and circulation flow analysis

We map the company's daily operations, links between departments and the movement of employees and visitors so they don't disturb each other.

Capacity planning and flexibility

Calculating and optimising m² for fixed workstations, flexible desks (hot-desking) and reserve space for future growth.

Space zoning and noise management

Separating noisy social zones (kitchenette, reception) from quiet zones intended for deep focus.

Ergonomics and lighting conditions

Arranging workstations according to health standards, seating ergonomics and maximum use of daylight.

MEP documentation — HVAC and electrical

Exact points for floor boxes, electrical wiring, ventilation and cooling based on the final desk layout.

RESULT: A floor plan with the exact number of workstations, meeting rooms and zones. The basis for design documentation and the price quote.

SPACEPLAN

How we work

Four steps from the first site visit to an approved floor plan.

1.

Site visit and brief

We review space, headcount, teams and work style.

2.

Analysis and sizing

Circulation, capacities, standards and room to grow.

3.

Test layouts

Layout options for zones, desks and meeting rooms to compare.

4.

Final spaceplan

Approved floor plan, MEP and budget documentation.

3 photorealistic 3D renders

You'll see the space before it's built.

Exact price, no surprises

Bill of quantities as the basis for the budget.

One partner from A to Z

Spaceplan, design and furnishing under one roof.

STEP TWO

OFFICE DESIGN

Visual concept, materials, lighting and acoustics — a space that shows who you are at first glance.

DESIGN

What we design

From the moodboard to the last light fitting and acoustic panel.

Visual concept and moodboards

We define the aesthetic direction, material scheme and atmosphere of the space.

Space branding and corporate identity

We translate company values, colours and brand story into interior architecture.

Material and furniture specification

Floor coverings, wall claddings, ergonomic chairs, desks and statement design pieces.

Custom joinery design

Reception desks, kitchen units, integrated storage systems and bespoke partition walls.

Lighting design and interior acoustics

Placement and types of light fittings, acoustic panels, claddings and integrated curtains.

Moodboard

Material scheme, colour palette and atmosphere of the space on a single sheet.

DESIGN

From concept to finished space

Every design follows the same path — and you see it before construction begins.

01 | CONCEPT

Moodboard and materials

Aesthetic direction, colours and finishes approved before drawing begins.

02 | VISUALISATION

3D visualisations

Three photorealistic previews of the space before it's built.

03 | DELIVERY

Finished space

Space handed over ready for immediate use.

Design isn't just about how a space looks.

We create environments that boost productivity, support collaboration and make a strong impression on clients and the team.

STEP THREE

OFFICE FURNISHING

From furniture to the smallest details.
Orders, assembly, accessories, relocation and final cleaning.

FURNISHING

What we do for you

We hand over the office ready for you to move straight in.

Supplier management and logistics

Ordering, monitoring production deadlines with joiners and external suppliers, and a precise delivery schedule.

Design accessories and branding

Signage, wayfinding, reception logo, decorations, lighting and greenery.

Post-installation service and cleaning

Cleaning the space, removing packaging and eco-friendly disposal of waste and old furniture.

Professional assembly and placement

In-house installation teams assemble and place standard and custom furniture according to the approved spaceplan.

Safe relocation of company assets

Moving IT equipment, sensitive documents, archives and stock to the new premises.

Space ready for immediate use. From the first sketch to the day you walk into your finished offices.
